Description
The Department of Economics at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia invites applications for a fellowship in:

Title:

Study and elaboration of an operative methodology for innovative tourism development

- Academic Discipline or disciplines specifically identified by the call SECS-P/06
- scientific coordinator and tutor: Prof. Jan Van der Borg
- duration: 12 months

abstract:

Study and interpretation of the impacts of tourism megatrends through the elaboration of a smart cross border data system (SCBDS) able to recognise new scenarios and new business perspectives. Using this platform, built merging statistic data, open source data (big data) and user generated contents, the research aims at developing an operative methodology to identify innovation models in tourism, with a specific focus on creative tourism, new form of hospitality and relational tourism, eco-innovation and blue-sustainable tourism. Results will concern cross-border tourism dimensions and will be shared with public and private stakeholders for the development of innovative tourism strategies. The candidate will produce a final report on the developed research activities.

The resolution of the Departmental Council of 2018-03-06 contains declaration of financial backing for the entire duration of the fellowship, which will be funded with funds available in the Project BluTourSystem – Application ID n. 10042761, Scientific Manager Prof. Jan Van der Borg., financed by the Italy-Croatia Standard + call program

The research may be carried out in English.
The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia.
