Description

The Department of Management at Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia invites applications for a fellowship in: Accounting Unbundling in Sectors newly regulated by ARERA: Water Supply, Small Scale LNG and Waste Management under the supervision of Ugo Sostero, Chair of SECS-P/07 – Business Administration and Accounting Studies

Abstract:

The project aims to study the application of accounting unbundling principles in the sectors that have recently been subjected to the supervision of ARERA (the Italian environmental, energy and utilities networks regulator). In particular, the project will study the integrated water utility service, and the Small Scale LNG and urban waste management services. The aim of the project is to analyse the issues arising from the extension of current accounting unbundling rules (as defined by ARERA and recently extended by regulation 24/3/2016, n. 137/20016/R/com) to new sectors featuring complex organisational and institutional structures.

The research may be carried out in Italian.

The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia.
