Description
The Department of Economics at Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia invites applications for a fellowship in:

- Title: Sustainable communication models and strategies for departmental teaching and research
- Academic Discipline or disciplines specifically identified by the call SECS P/05; SECS-P/03
- scientific coordinator and tutor: Prof. Monica Billio; Prof. Francesca Zantomio (co-tutor)
- duration: 12 months

abstract:
A university department’s research and teaching are key fields that distinguish it at the national and international level. The two domains – which are at the same time separate yet interwoven — contribute to formulating strategic and development strategies with a strong internal and external impact. Communication facilitates this continuous exchange with endogenous and exogenous factors, and is necessary for research and teaching to be made effectively available to the stakeholders in the department.

As the stakeholders are varied, the communication models and strategies must also be diversified. Communication with teaching and administrative staff must differ from that with students and graduates, and with the public. Moreover, international communication requires further different paradigms, and cannot simply be a translation of material produced in Italian.

The resolution of the Council of Department of Economics of 2019-02-13 contains declaration of financial backing for the entire duration of the fellowship, which will be funded with funds available to UE.A.DEC. Dipartimento di Economia, responsible Prof. Monica Billio

The research may be carried out in English.

The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia.
