The Department of Humanities of Ca' Foscari University of Venice, having regard to the Director's Decree Rep no. 994/2026 Prot. n. 154691-VII/16 of 25th June 2026 establishing the research programmes for awarding of the short fellowships in “FuEL (Flux in European Literature): Flux as a metaphor in 19th-century French and Italian Literature”, lasting 12 months, scientific-disciplinary sector COMP-01/A – Literary Criticism and Comparative Literature, tutor prof. Mimmo (Domenico) Cangiano, with the possibility of renewal within the limits of art. 4 of the Regulations for awarding of university short research fellowships.

The expected starting date is 25th July 2026.

The Short-Term Research Fellowship is part of the project entitled “Flux in European Literature. Circulation and Affirmation of a Metaphor (1776-1848)” CUP: H73C25001620005, P.I. prof. Mimmo (Domenico) Cangiano, financed by Bando SPIN Supporting Principal INvestigators 2025.

The research fellowships is awarded for the purpose of collaboration with the following research programme of the Department of Humanities.

- abstract: The successful candidate will have to develop research capable of identifying, contextualizing, and historicizing the metaphor of the “flow” in 19th-century European literature, with a specific focus on French and Italian literature. The candidate is expected to trace a cultural history of this phenomenon, examining its intersection with both historical elements (bourgeois epistemology) and formal aspects (the rise of the novel). The scholarship holder must demonstrate a good knowledge of French literature from the late 18th century and throughout the 19th century. A minimum level of B1 in French is therefore required. Furthermore, the fellowship holder will provide support to the PI (Principal Investigator) in organizing an international conference.

The research fellowship amounts to Euro 20.040,00 gross to the recipient.

Deadline: 15th July 2026 h. 12 p.m. (Rome CET)

Rules of eligibility – Beneficiaries

Citizens belonging to European Union member states and non-community citizens in possession of the following qualifications may take part in the selection:

- a) Master's degree or equivalent foreign degree in Modern Philology (LM-14);
- b) suitable scientific / professional track record.

Applicants must hold all the requisites within the call deadline. The qualifications will be evaluated by a Commission that examines the eligibility and qualifications of the candidates and makes a merit rank of them.

Evaluable titles

- Degree Thesis and, if applicable, PhD thesis relevant to the scientific scope of the project.
- 5 scientific publications, evaluated for quality and consistency with the research area of the project.

Skills required

- Knowledge of 19th-century French and Italian literature, with particular reference to the realist novel, acquired through study and scientific research activities.
- Skills in the field of literary theory and criticism, with particular reference to the theoretical-methodological principles relevant to the scope of the project.
- Advanced knowledge of the French language.
- Experience in the scientific editing of volumes and editorial products.

At the end of his/her research activity, the research fellow is required to provide the Department with:

- collection of the contributions for the conference proceedings and co-editing of the volume together with the Principal Investigator;
- final report documenting the research activities and the results achieved.

Incompatibility

The short-term research fellowship may not overlap with:

- other scholarships granted in any capacity, apart from those granted by national or foreign research institutes in order to integrate with periods abroad the specific activity foreseen by the work plan of the appointed fellow;
- attendance of PhD courses with scholarship and medical specialization, in Italy and abroad;
- research grants “assegni di ricerca”

Fellowship holders may carry out self-employed work or occasional or permanent collaborations, as long as this is coherent with the ongoing research, upon approval and on the condition that:

- does not involve a conflict of interest with the specific research activity carried out;
- does not prejudice the university, in relation to the activities carried out.

Subordinate employment contracts holders, in addition to obtaining permission by the university, must provide the authorization of their employer.

In the specific case that the subordinate employment contract started prior to the awarding of the fellowship, compatibility with the existing employment will have to be assessed; if the assessment yields a negative result, the short research fellowship will not be awarded; in the case of a positive result, the successful candidate will have to provide the authorization of his/her employer within 15 days.

In the event that the subordinate employment contract will start once the fellowship is ongoing, the successful applicant is required to notify this change at least 15 days before the start of the employment contract for an assessment of compatibility; if the assessment is negative, the fellowship will cease by the start of the employment contract; in the event of a positive outcome, the successful applicant must provide the authorization of his/her employer within 15 days.

The awarding of the short-term research fellowship does not imply the establishment of any employment contract, nor does it give rise to any rights of access to positions of employment at the university.
